Little Danger of War

Life's Darkest Moment

By Webster

Jack Scott

The sudden invasion of South Korea by the Communists of North Korea, presumably at the instigation and with the assistance of Russia, has created again a wave of public fear at the possible imminence of general world conflict.

A global war is always possible, largely because the motives of Communism are so incomprehensible to western minds. But nothing in the present situation would appear to justify immediate apprehension.

There are several reasons why the Soviets would not be likely to precipitate a general war at this moment.

The first is, of course, that the Russian stockpile of atomic bombs is probably not yet large enough to warrant them embarking on such a hazardous venture.

This reason is supported by the historical fact that Russia has never yet sought an aggressive "shooting" war in which she entertained the slightest doubt of the outcome.

From all the information available, Russia is not yet strong enough to be certain of victory.

The second reason is that, in all likelihood, the Soviet Union would not deliberately cause a world war without having some color of legal right to do so. It might be possible for the Soviet Union to attempt to interpose the sending of American supplies and armament to South Korea as an act of American hostility to a Russian ally.

But since North Korea is plainly the aggressor, this excuse would be painfully thin.

As a matter of fact, there is more international dynamite in the Korean situation than in the Korean situation.

Should the western allies decide to support the government of Chiang Kai-shek in exile, Russia could very well argue that the West had committed a hostile act against the established government of China which is allied with Russia.

But there is no parallel in Korea. And it will probably be found that Russia will reluctantly deny any implication in the invasion.

No one has any doubt that the North Korean attack is inspired by the Soviet Union. But its purpose is not a direct confrontation with world disturbance.

It suits Russia's book to keep the democracies in a state of doubt and turmoil and anxiety because she believes that the greater unrest among the people of the western nations, the greater the instability of the governments of those nations.

This is a nuisance attack designed to worry the western allies.

Russia has no intention of the psychological wave of worry in a cold war.

Summer Drownings and Swimming Pools

Two Edmonton men were drowned in Pigeon Lake last Sunday because they were not thoroughly at home in the water.

Had Edmonton been adequately supplied with public swimming pools, these fatalities might never have occurred.

The most dangerous time in the world, at times, is a slight and sketchy knowledge of swimming.

The men who were drowned thought they could swim and lost their lives trying to get ashore when their boots overtook them. The two men who knew they could not swim stuck by the craft and, by sheer luck, were rescued.

If all had been completely familiar with the water, nobody would have died.

Youngsters take a few swimming lessons and pass a test of sorts and believe they are equal to any emergency.

The only way in which the security of human life can be assured under such circumstances is by providing facilities for day in and day out water exercises for everybody.

Edmonton has three public pools which, being open, operate only the summer time. They are crowded far beyond capacity and offer no real opportunity for swimming.

Twelve or fifteen pools, situated in every part of the city, would give everybody a chance to really learn water and the summer drowning list would be minimized.

Members of the committee were more eager to score off the government than to save money, and at least some of the committee chairman, and his substitute were in the committee for the purpose of interests of the political party which happens to be in power rather than those of the taxpayers.

Yet a start was made. Ministers have learned that spending by the government is not always popular. Deputy ministers and other senior officials have experienced severe examination, not to be turned aside by lofty suggestions that they knew better than the elected representatives of the people.

A start has been made. What remains to be seen whether, in other sessions of the legislature, other parliament, the committee will continue.

The spending of public money, of the people's money, has come to be regarded too lightly.

Now, at least the suggestion has been made that it is time to change this attitude.

Economy Effort Not Quite Wasted

The efforts of a parliamentary committee to find some means by which government spending may be reduced have not produced very impressive results—in actual dollars and cents. That does not mean that they have been wasted.

The committee was hampered by two factors.

One was the great difficulty of exploring the complex machinery of the civil service. In the United States, ex-President Hoover, aided by a large staff of paid and unpaid assistants, struggled for a similar cause, and came out with tangible recommendations, not for minor reductions in spending, but for wholesale re-organization of government machinery.

Most of the recommendations have not yet been put into effect, but some have been, and this has been a big step in saving money.

The parliamentary committee had no such staff, and all that it could do was to pick up what seemed to be clear cases of waste, and ask about them.

The other hampering effect came from petty partisanship.

It is quite possible that opposition

Defends Alberta

Editor, Bulletin—Referring to letter in this column June 26, entitled "A True View."

We are Americans, too, and appreciate all of every year that we live in Alberta and are happy and proud of her growth, and richer as a result.

I hope the Canadians will not judge Americans by the writer of this article. Am I kidding when he is here. And am sure one would have any tears on his cheeks.

We have always found the Canadians a very friendly and courteous people, and sincerely hope and trust they will not judge their friends and neighbors across the border by the person who signed himself a true American. I would like to think that it is a true example of the American people.

Berry Pickers

Editor, Bulletin—I am very hopeful of going out to B.C. for berry-picking. I would like to hear from some one who will tell me a little about the work. How much money they can make a day? Do you get free board and food? What are the living conditions like? What is the train fare—advanced? I would very much like to hear from some middle-aged ladies who have been out there before and plan to go again.

HOPPEL PICKER.

Old Age Pensions

Editor, Bulletin—it seems appropriate at the time when parliament is taking up the matter of old age pensions seriously, that there should be a continuing discussion in the press by the people concerned.

There is a large and growing class of people in Canada of retiring age who individually have a small estate but not sufficient to enable them to live on the income they live on, in clear of debt, and a few hundred dollars a year would make a difference to their life.

I am all for a pension without a means test at a certain age, with the proviso that it must be returned if not actually required.

And the income tax department seems to be the obvious agency capable of handling the details required in every individual case. You will remember that for the 1946 taxation year the government of Canada allowed a deduction under which family allowances of persons with a certain income had to be returned. This worked no hardship in any case that came to my notice.

I would suggest that a similar plan be adopted.

When Newfoundland entered Confederation the maximum number of Senators was increased from 36 to 38.

Workers in Russia have to work twenty times as long as Canadians to earn a pound of sugar. The average Canadian industrial worker gets the price of a pound of sugar in six minutes; the Russian worker two hours for his.

Total value of non-resident investments in Canada amounted in 1946 to seven and a half billion dollars, almost three quarters of which was held in the United States.

Canada spent more than seven and a half billion dollars in retail stores in 1946, an all-time high.

Carbon County, Wyo., in 1874 had on its assessment roll 2,037 cattle. By 1886 the number had risen to 128,025.

Vatican Representation

Editor, Bulletin—The letter you published from Mr. G. S. S. a question that needs answering. The question was "Why should the Vatican have a representative to the Vatican?" and here is the answer.

There is a law in the British constitution which says that any country, in its power or influence of the Commonwealth of Nations and over its own domain.

This law, along with many other laws, has been maintained since that time. Therefore, as Canada has been situated under the British rule and lately been set apart as a member of the Commonwealth of Nations and given equal status and autonomy.

Further, in America there is a large number of Europeans and others who are Catholics and the Roman Catholic faith which is recognized more in America than in the Commonwealth of Nations.

As to justice, what would be more just, if looked at through the eyes of our government, than to crown an citizen who looked to the Vatican for his religious needs?

Editor, Bulletin—I recently came upon this priceless little gem of verse, presumably lifted from the pyramid of Cheops, and thought that your readers might enjoy its pulsating harmony with a local situation; follows translation:

Town Boys Get

Opinions Off Chests

REVELSTOCK, B.C.—Six high school boys drove out on the "town to have a look at our trailer and to talk about this story and another and this is a story about them."

They came in an old Chevy minus an engine hood, there was a sign on the back that said "Don't laugh, mister — your daughter may be inside." Another read, "All you enter here leave all hope behind." The lettering over the headlights said, "Sealed Smoothie."

They were a boisterous gang. Each had a crew cut. Each was a little self-conscious. But when we'd talked for awhile the boys dropped their inhibitions and jollyed. I found I was getting a picture of the outlook of the teenager in a small town.

Two of the boys, Fred Williamson, whose father is a C.P.R. engineer, and Jack McNeil, whose father teaches the boiler at the town's brewery, are 18. They're about to leave their selves into the cold, cruel world. On this they all agreed that the small town has some pretty severe limitations.

It must be terrible in the "eternity," Wabey said. "A girl who lives in a small town is just as much a victim as a boy who comes from a visit to Vancouver. Said kids were fighting with knives down there."

I asked about church-going. Only two of the six boys said "There seems to be a lot of church-going here." None of the boys went.

"It's not that we don't believe in church," one of the boys said, "but most of us work part time. Sunday is the only day that we can go to church."

"Not only that," another put in, "but the churches don't seem to have a program in music. At school they teach us to learn facts and to prove everything. But at church no music. And you have to prove your status. I don't want to go to church."

Ban On Auto Horn Merits Consideration

Is the horn on an automobile as necessary as most people seem to believe? Each time there is a discussion regarding regulations or laws, one step is to provide more cases in which a motorist must sound his horn. Each time there is any dispute as to whether a horn should be blown, it is placed upon whether or not the horn has been sounded.

This is really a carry-over from the railroad, where the blowing of the whistle has become a ritual, something that must be done whether it is needed or not.

Recently, some people were annoyed at the announcement that a certain model car was being turned out with no horn whatsoever as the standard equipment. Undoubtedly, that horn would be provided as an extra. But seriously speaking, what is the purpose of saving by having a horn on any vehicle?

It is handy at weddings. It is useful to show one's impatience at slow moving traffic. It is a step when you want to let your friend know you are waiting. It is handy for startling the neighbors after midnight.

But so far as the actual operation of a motor vehicle is concerned there is some question as to whether or not it would be better to prohibit the use of a horn entirely.

One use of the horn is to warn of danger. It is a step when you want to let your friend know you are waiting. It is handy for startling the neighbors after midnight.

Mother Will Get Custody Of Tiny Son

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP)—Five Justices of the Supreme Court of Canada yesterday unanimously decided that a two-year-old child should be returned to its unwed mother, although she had previously allowed the child to be adopted by foster-parents.

The decision, ending a long court battle by the mother for the return of her child, is expected to set a precedent for other adoption cases in Canada. It may mean that other mothers may seek the recovery of children given out in adoption.

(At Toronto, Gaurly L. Howell, who acted for the mother in the case, said such recovery depends upon whether the mother files her intention to revoke her consent to adoption within a two-year period after she has given her consent. Papers have been finally taken out by the adopted parents, which recovery is not legally possible, he said.)

WILL REGAIN CUSTODY

The court's decision will mean that Lily Ayva Duffell, 30, formerly of Middlesex, England, and now believed residing in Toronto, will regain the custody of her young son.

In dismissing the appeal of the foster-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Martin of Toronto, against a judgment handed down by the Ontario Court of Appeal, Mr. Justice J. R. Cartwright said in his judgment:

"It is, I think, well settled that the mother of an illegitimate child has a right to its custody."

Navy Raises Two Officers

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP)—The Navy announced appointment of new commanding officers for the Pacific-based Canadian destroyers Cayuga and Sioux.

Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor, 39, of Victoria, will take command of the Cayuga, July 6.

The announcement coincided with a disclosure in the Commons by Defence Minister Cline that a proposed European cruise, in which the two destroyers were to take part with three others and the carrier Magnificent, might have to be postponed if the Korean war continues.

Douks As Soviet Agents Seen If Cold War Heats

VICTORIA, B.C., June 27.—(BUP)—Gordon Wismer, provincial attorney general, warned the nation last night that radical Doukhobors might become fifth-columnists for Russia if the cold war suddenly turned hot.

Wismar, in a provincial radio network address, said the actions of the Doukhobors "are strangely familiar to those who observed the strategy of another group during the last war before Russia entered into it."

This was an obvious reference to the Labor Progressive (Communist) party.

HOSTILE MOTIVES

"I think I am justified in suggesting that these people, Russian in origin and many of whom although born in Canada speak only the Russian language, may in the period when the cold war is perceptibly warmer, be actuated by hostile motives in the country of their adoption," Wismar said.

He added if no solution was found by a committee of experts set up to study the Doukhobor problem, law at the expense of many, he said.

Expert Explodes A-Bomb Fantasy

Power Admitted, But Ability To Move Mountains Decried

By Howard W. Blakeslee

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—An American atom bomb could blow up only a small hill, and much less move a mountain as the Russians have claimed they can do.

It would require hundreds of even thousands of A-bombs to move even part of one mountain last year the Russians claimed atomic explosives were changing the course of rivers and moving mountains.

The estimate of what an atom bomb can really do was given by Dr. Frederick Reines, a staff member of the Los Alamos, New Mexico, scientific laboratory, in making of the bomb is directed. He wrote in the June issue of the bulletin of the atomic scientists.

FREIGHT CARLOADS

"Though the mass of earth which the atom bomb is capable of moving is large in terms of freight carloads," he says, "it is small compared with a mountain."

"For example, a hill about a quarter-mile high and a quarter-mile across could probably be blown apart, but one significantly larger would not be as destroyed."

"On this scale, it would take a huge number of perhaps hundreds or even thousands to move any appreciable fraction of a mountain."

BREAKING ICEBERGS

"By the same token, although an atomic bomb could be useful in breaking up a few small icebergs, it does not look promising as a tool for causing any important rearrangements of the Arctic ice."

"As for melting the polar ice cap if all the energy released by one bomb were so employed, it would melt much less ice than it could pulverize—i.e., it could melt a sphere approximately 200 feet in diameter."

Dr. Reines thought it might be possible to direct a river's course. This would be done by blasting a large volume of solid rock, probably by detonating the bomb deep in the rock. The radio activity from the explosion would soon be diluted by the running water, he said.

Coast Fish Wharf To Cost $500,000

YANCOUVER, B.C., June 27.—(BUP)—Work will start soon on building a $500,000 fish boat wharf in Vancouver.

The wharf, to be located on False Creek, will accommodate 500 large fishing boats. The federal government has allocated $100,000 toward its construction.

CHANGE OF HEART of city results from completion of new Bank of Toronto, built at Jasper and 100A street. Old style buildings give place to this new streamlined structure, reflecting another step in development of

Bank Holds Reception To Open New Building

New Bank of Toronto building at the corner of Jasper avenue and 100A street will be officially opened today.

President James L. Carson of Toronto, will perform the honors. An "open house" reception will be held today and Wednesday, according to an announcement by James Hutton, manager of the Edmonton branch.

An invitation has been issued for citizens to inspect the bank during those two days and arrangements have been made to have it open from 6:30 to 9:30 at night for those unable to take advantage of the daytime hours.

The new building facing on Jasper avenue is a completely modern structure. The Tynsall store construction of the exterior is based with grey granite. Over the door is the crest of the Bank of Toronto and above is a large electric clock.

STRIKING

The interior presents a striking picture of the latest in bank appointments. The counter work is of Roman Botticino marble and the walls are Roman Travertine marble, a byproduct of the lava, or volcanoes.

There are 16 teller's windows. Both windows and cages are fitted with bronze and fluted glass. In the centre of the customer's space are five marble cheque desks with two marble settlers.

The Bank of Toronto first opened in Edmonton in 1919 and the site of the present bank was at one time the location of one of Edmonton's first banks.

Report Reveals Road Conditions

Only light passenger cars can make the trip from Edmonton through Cranbrook to Spokane, according to a road report from the Alberta Motor Association.

Roads near Bonanza Ferry, Idaho, have made the bridge there unsafe for heavy traffic. Repairs and strengthening work are expected to be completed shortly.

The Hope-Princeton highway to Vancouver has not been affected by the recent Fraser Valley floods and the road is open.

28 Are Killed In Air Crash

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 27.—(UPI)—Twenty-eight persons were killed yesterday when a four-engine biplane crashed in a dense forest.

The crash was the worst in Australian aviation history. Edgar W. Forward, an engineer of Bendy Beach, Australia, was the only survivor aboard the Australian National Airways plane.

"I felt the plane going down and the passengers began screaming," Forward said. "It was terrifying," he said. "Then the plane hit and I fell out. I found that I was alive and beat the fire out with my hands."

Search parties found the wreckage of the plane in a heavily timbered area in western Australia.

Jap Liberal Cabinet Quits

TOKYO, June 27.—(UPI)—Premier Mikuni Yoshida's cabinet resigned today to permit the premier to get a stronger pro-American coalition from among members of the Liberal and Democratic parties.

Political observers said the "Korean war" had accelerated the Liberal Yoshida's decision to set up a bipartisan foreign policy favoring a separate peace with the west and American security guarantees.

Women, Children Take To Air Travel

CHICAGO.—Women and children have shown an increased interest in travelling by air during the past 15 years, according to United Air Lines.

An analysis of passenger traffic trends showed that women averaged more than one-third of all passengers carried by the company in 1938. They averaged only one in every seven passengers carried in 1920.

One of every 15 air riders last year was a child between the ages of two and 12. They rarely appeared on plane late 15 years ago.

Land Titles Bids Called

Tenders for the Alberta government's $700,000 land titles building at 100 avenue and 100 street are being called.

They will be accepted up to July 12, officials of the public works department said.

Concrete foundation has been completed by W. C. Wells Construction Co. of Edmonton. Steel is being provided by the Dominion Bridge Company.

A nonstop electric clock has been produced, according to The American Magazine, that keeps ticking correct time when the current fails. A spring movement that requires rewinding less than once a year takes over instantly until power is restored.

VISITOR to Edmonton for official opening of Bank of Toronto's new building is James L. Carson, Toronto, president of the bank.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Homing pigeons are full-witted compared with the birds trained by a Harvard psychologist, R. F. Skinner, in his psychology experiments, play piano, table tennis and slot machines.

While physicians examined her, the plate was found underneath her bed at home.

Coal Products Seen Only Aid To Dropping Markets

Development of more scientific processing of coal products offers the only solution to Alberta's declining coal market, Premier E. C. Manning said today.

He was commenting on a statement by Trade Minister Howe which described the prospect for Alberta coal in eastern markets as "very dim" and which strongly recommended against expansion of the coal mining industry in the West.

In view of the federal government's attitude towards freight rates, Alberta's coal mining industry must now, if it is to survive, pass beyond the stage of merely mining and marketing coal in its natural state, the premier said.

MARKETABLE PRODUCTS
Mines minister How, N. E. Tanner also recommended the processing of Alberta coal into more marketable products.

He suggested development of briquetting industry and the production of other synthetic products would be a suitable solution to the declining coal market.

Director of Mines John Crawford agreed, "Can we afford regardless of the cost of operating Alberta mines, to import 24 million tons of coal annually for eastern Canada?"

Nearly 10,000 persons are employed in and around coal mines in Alberta. Last year the industry produced 8,616,983 tons of coal which had a value of $44,541,538.

ECONOMIC POSITION

In Ottawa, Trade Minister Howe said it was felt the economic position of Canada's western coal mines was such that expansion should not be invited by way of federal assistance.

The minister said there was "no plan" for capital assistance for western mines. With oil undercutting the price of coal in the west, he believed any western operator would be unwise to venture to expand operations.

Mr. Howe revealed the deferment of the coal freight rate in reply to A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West). Mr. Smith said the increase, which was due to go into effect July 1, would eliminate eastern markets for Alberta coal.

The railway had a special rate of $6.40 a ton on coal for some years and now proposed to advance this to around $15.

Mr. Howe said the railways had agreed to continue the present rates until next March 31 to give the Alberta mines a chance to adapt themselves to the new conditions.

Three Killed When Vessels Crash in Fog

DETROIT, June 27.—(AP)—Three passengers aboard the Great Lakes excursion liner, City of Cleveland III lost their lives early Sunday in a ship crash in a heavy fog on Lake Huron. Another is missing and presumed dead. A score were injured.

The passenger ship collided with the Norwegian freighter Ragnvald at 6:20 a.m. EDT about five miles off Huron Beach in Michigan's "thumb" area. The bow of the freighter ripped through 10 staterooms on the upper structure of the liner extending out from the hull.

The dead are: Alvin J. Boyd, 55, Benton Harbor police chief; Merwyn Stouck, 64, former mayor of Benton Harbor; and Louis Patterson, 40, South Bend, Ind.

Missing and presumed dead is Fred Skelly, 48, of Benton Harbor.

Two Children Die In Log Cabin Blaze In East

KIRKLAND LAKE, June 27.—(CP)—Two children were burned to death in their log farm home at nearby Charlton when a match was dropped into a pool of kerosene after it spilled from a lamp.

The dead are Stanley Aldred, three, and his sister, Diane, five, children of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Aldred.

Another child, Delbert, 13, who was left in charge of his eight brothers and sisters while his parents attended a theatre at Englehart, 10 miles from Charlton, said he was attempting to light the lamp when the match fell and ignited the fuel.

HERE'S HOW KOREA ARMIES COMPARE

North: 183,000 trained men; 9,000 guerrillas, plus constabulary and youth corps units of unspecified strength;

173 tanks and 173 military planes; 32 naval vessels.

Official South Korean figures are not available, but Washington says the south has 10,000 American-trained troops.

The south's air force consists of a handful of trainers, mostly unarmed, and seven of these were shot up by northern raiders Sunday afternoon.

The south Korean navy consists of a few small patrol craft.

City Police Cruiser Car Injures Man

Charles Michalot, 10512 - 81 avenue, was critically injured when struck by a city police cruiser car on Jasper avenue at midnight.

A CNR baggage worker, Mr. Michalot, was walking from a train to a bus when he was struck by the car.

Condition of the injured man is reported "unfavorable."

Det. MacLean has been suspended from duty "pending a complete investigation of the accident." Deputy Chief Constable Alex. Riddell told the Bulletin.

EMPLOYED BY CNR
Michalot is believed to have been on his way home from work at the CNR station when the accident happened. The injured man is a bachelor. His mother lives in St. Albert.

According to a statement issued today by Deputy Chief Constable Riddell, Michalot was walking from the northeast curb at 103 street and Jasper avenue to board a west-bound street car.

Det. MacLean was driving west in a police cruiser car. It was raining at the time and MacLean did not see the man step out from the curb. He is reported to have told Deputy Chief Riddell.

The railway had a special rate of $6.40 a ton on coal for some years and now proposed to advance this to around $15.

Mr. Howe said the railways had agreed to continue the present rates until next March 31 to give the Alberta mines a chance to adapt themselves to the new conditions.

PLANS AGAIN MADE FOR MEUNIER FARM

MORINVILLE, June 27.—Definite decision to go ahead with plans to improve Felix Meunier's farm have been made.

The committee met with district agriculturist J. M. Fontaine to find a way to raise the funds necessary. A raffle was decided upon and will be sponsored by the CYO.

A washing machine, radio and iron will be raffled. About $5,000 worth of improvements will be made to the farm.

Date of the field day has not been set.

$200,000 Loan Asked for Schools

Grande Prairie Plans Replacing Building Erected in Early Days

GRANDE PRAIRIE, June 27.—A $200,000 debenture issue to construct new school buildings in the Grande Prairie School Division is being asked by the Board.

Plans for new modern schools will also be requested. Some of these new schools will replace old log schools built in pioneer days.

Borrowing will be done under the School Borrowing Assistance Act which provides for only 70 per cent of the loan to be interest bearing and half of the remainder is not repayable.

Schools will be built at Beaverlodge, an eight-room school to cost about $80,000; a six-room school at LaGrange, $60,000; two-room additions at Hythe, Elmworth and Teepee Creek; one-room addition at Wallalta Centre.

Three rooms will be built in Grande Prairie to accommodate students from Percy, Five Mile and Twilight schools who will be vaned in.

SERVICE BADGE PRESENTED

GRANDE PRAIRIE, June 27.—In recognition of the "great contribution" which Grande Prairie district has made to the work of the Red Cross, both in funds and in blood donations, R. Muir, Edmonton, provincial Assistant Commissioner of the Red Cross, presented the local branch with a badge of service.

He stressed the fact that the award was to honor the entire community.

A. G. E. Gibson, president, accepted the badge on behalf of the branch.

Princeton Choir Gives Concert

GRANDE PRAIRIE, June 27.—Princeton Theological Seminary Choir gave a radio program last week on their way to Alaska.

Det. MacLean said he was driving "slowly" at the time his car struck Michalot.

A city ambulance took the injured man to the Royal Alexandra hospital.

On their return to Grande Prairie they will sing in the United Church July 14 and in Forbes Presbyterian Church in the morning of July 15.

New Cabinet In Anti-Communist

TEHRAN, Iran, June 27.—(AP)—Iran got a new cabinet today, headed by an anti-Communist strongman and made up mostly of newcomers to top government rank.

Only two of the ministers chosen by premier-designate Lt. Gen. Ali Reza Marx, chief of the general staff, have held high ministerial rank before.

Western diplomats in Cairo said the Communist invasion of South Korea apparently had speeded the cabinet change in Iran. The three-month-old government of Premier Ali Mansour had been accused of laxness and indecision.

Gerhart Will Discuss County Act in North

GRANDE PRAIRIE, June 27.—The County System will be the subject of lively discussion when the Hon. C. E. Gerhart, Minister of Municipal Affairs, visits the district.

These meetings are being arranged to give the public an opportunity to obtain information on the proposed change in municipal government.

Mr. Gerhart will speak at Winnipeg on the afternoon of July 10 and at Grande Prairie that evening at Teepee Creek July 11 at 8:30 p.m. and at Seasmith at 8 p.m.; at LaGrange on July 12 at 8:30 and at Hythe at 8 p.m.; at Rio Grande on July 13 at 8:30 and at Beaverlodge at 8 p.m.

Arrangements for the meetings are in the hands of the councillors.

Opposition to the incorporation of the Grande Prairie School Division in the proposed Alberta Government County Act was expressed at the recent trustee meeting but less than half voted. Not enough was known about it to make a decision.

Two Americans Reach City On Trip In Aluminum Canoe

By Bill Bell
Bulletin Staff Reporter

From Saginaw, Michigan, to Aklavik, N.W.T. in a 19-foot aluminum canoe was the ambitious project of two Americans who arrived in the city Monday night.

After battling the Great Lakes, and connecting rivers, swamps, and the dangerous stage for 1,200 miles, the two men were compelled to stop their trip when they were met by a team from Junior Chamber of Commerce...

The two adventures, W. Emerson Scott, 40, Caro, Mich., and Ray Driesen, 26, of St. Charles, Ill., will take to the water again at Aklavik.

They left Saginaw April 23 and expect to arrive at Aklavik August 20. Their canoe, powered by a five-horse power motor, and carrying 800 pounds of equipment, has pulled them out of some tough spots, said Mr. Scott.

CAUGHT BY WIND
"Storms, ice floes and high winds nearly swamped us several times. Caught by a sudden gust of wind and in a cross current in the St. Mary's river only quick balling saved our lives."

Trapped in ice floes behind Pictured Rocks in Lake Michigan, the party ran out of food and had an 11-mile walk through mudland to replenish their supplies.

From Waterways they will cut across Lake Athabasca to the Slave river, down the Great Slave Lake to the Mackenzie river, reporting to all available RCMP posts on the way.

Equipment taken north includes a complete choice of well-appointed and fully serviced apartments and hotel rooms at moderate rates.

MINE RESCUE TEAMS SEEK FIVE VICTIMS

Rescue workers are still probing the depth of the Cadomin Coal Company mine for the bodies of five miners who disappeared there for nearly two weeks.

The men were trapped by a deluge of mud and water which swept into the mine shaft when a serious flash flood struck the coal branch area and the mining town of Cadomin. Nearly 30 other miners escaped.

"If possible, we want to go on a hunt with the Eskimos. When I was in Ottawa arranging for the trip they suggested it might be possible," he said.

Later this summer, after a stay in Aklavik, the two men with their equipment expect to fly out.

Journalists Still TUC Affiliate

LONDON, June 27 — (Reuters) — The National Union of Journalists announced yesterday that its members had decided to remain affiliated to the Trades Union Congress.

About half of the union's 10,000 members voted, 3,037 favor of affiliation and 2,004 against.

Talks Attempt To Head Off Rail Strike

CHICAGO, June 27. — (UPI) — Mediators began talks today to head off a threatened walkout of 250,000 railroad trainmen and conductors while a three-day-old strike of 4,000 switchmen against five western roads slowed from one shipment on the Great Lakes.

The brotherhood of railroad trainmen and the order of railway conductors, which threatened to strike against the nation's railroads July 15 for a shorter work week, sent representatives to meet with chairman Francis O'Neill of the National Railway mediation board.

But W. P. Kennedy, president of the RRT, said there was "little reason for optimism at this late hour for a peaceful settlement."

Pedestrian's Hip Broken In Crash

Three Others Injured In Monday Traffic Mishaps

Four persons were injured in Edmonton traffic accidents yesterday.

A motorcycle hit 64-year-old Clarence Creighton, 644-100 street, at he crossed 124 avenue at 124 street at 8:35 p.m. His left hip was broken when the machine's handle bar knocked him to the pavement.

Driver was Lyle Thompson, 1044-151 street, who told police Creighton appeared to stop in the intersection as Thompson tried to pass behind him after turning onto 124 avenue from 124 street.

Second accident involving injury was a collision between a car driven by Robert Dunbar, 1190-06 street, and a truck driven by John Mayo, 900-04 avenue. Accident occurred at 111 avenue and 101 street.

Injured were Dunbar's three passengers, Clara Dieckrich, 1213-06 street, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, 1210-04 street. They suffered bruised arms and Mrs. Ferguson also sustained head bruises.

VIPERS VANQUISHED

Fasting Fakir Breaks Fast; Breaks Record

LILLE, France, June 27. — (Reuters) — Fakir Burmah, 40-year-old son of an Indian father and English mother, yesterday set a world fasting record of 33 days, one hour—and announced his engagement.

Burmah, who had been fasting in a glass coffin with two pythons and snakes of vipers since May 4, left his coffin but did not eat anything immediately.

He expressed his pride at beating by one hour the record recently established by his German rival, Willy (Herr) Schmitz. "I knew I would win from the very first day," he said.

More than 2,000 spectators cheered Burmah when he announced his engagement to his 20-year-old French secretary Suzanne Pottier.

All the vipers died one after the other during the 33 days, and one python is in bad shape, but Burmah said he'll put it right by secret methods.

Burmah smoked 730 cigarettes during his fast, while Schmitz smoked 2,800.

Before climbing into a car with his fiancée, Burmah waved to the crowd and said fasting had been a pleasure among such nice people.

Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Athletic Union will play a large part in the Highland Games, scheduled for South Side Athletic Grounds Saturday.

Rollin Brether, 6-foot-4 and from Kansas State, will enter the discus, javelin and 16-pound shot-put events. He is the sixth ranked shot-putter in the world for the 16-pound weight.

The Kansan's shot put mark is something in excess of 35 feet. He won his letter at Kansas State in his first season, thanks to his ability in weight competitions.

An Eskimo tug-of-war team will contest that event and is expected to give the Alberta champion City Police quite a struggle. Dumiri Goulet, who will manage the tug-war team.

Expected to be an athletic highlight in the games will be the 60-metre race for girls, featuring Anna Bosch of Camrose and Elsie Ann Barnman from Edberg. Both have travelled long distances in eight seconds flat, unofficially.

Entries to the games have been received from such points as Bowden, Kistey, Okotoks, Red Deer, Stettin, New Norway, Claiborn, Calgary and Edmonton.

Playoff To Martin

John Martin's Royal risk won the recent Carman lawn bowling tournament, winning the Army and Navy cup in a three-way playoff with Walter Smith and J. O. Smith, both of Edmonton.

In regular tournaments play the three risks won all of the games for a total of 10 points each.

Martin's helpers in the tournament were W. McNeill, R. Simpson and Jack McLeod. The Smiths risk, with Neil Law, H. Bergmann and H. S. Rowley aboard, finished second, and the Smiths quartet was third.

Other risks finished as follows: A. D. Anderson, Higgins, S. E. Shaw, Edmonton; K. A. E. Goodwin, Royal; T. Cox, Garneau; R. Bennett, Garneau.

The annual triples competition at Garneau will be played July 8. Entries close July 5 and must be filed with draw chairman Morley Seiler before that date.

Whippers Needed Some Safety

Edmonton Uplifters Tigers trounced Bulletin Whippers in an exhibition baseball game played at Concordia College last night. Bob Leck of the Tigers hit the longest blow of the night, a home run, in the first inning.

Neil Samis Whiffs 'Ole' Woodenface

Another one of the Samis (baseball) clan has hit the sport pages.

Neil Samis, son of general manager Ken Samis of the Big Four Baseball league, Dodgers, yesterday fanned the Bulletin's Woodenface by nailing three straight strikes in competition at Kitchener.

However, Jasper Field will get their chance to whiff Woodface Thursday at 7:30 o'clock.

In their heyday ranked as one of hockey's all-time great forward lines, from left, Mac Colville, Neil Colville and Alex Shibicky, were together again here yesterday as official announcement came from New York of Neil Colville's appointment as manager of New York Rangers. The Colville-Shibicky-Colville trio played as unit with Rangers.

Mortons Add Pair

Mortons senior ladies football squad is going all out to bring a championship to Edmonton.

Miles ahead of the rest of the pack, Wale-Rites and an intermediate entry in South Side Athletics, Mortons have come up with two new additions to the club.

They are Millie McAuley, a third base gal, and shortstop Helen Shearing.

McAuley is well-known to Kingsway football fans. Wife of one-time New York Ranger goalie Ken McAuley. Millie previously performed with Mortons.

Good hitting ability and a rifle arm make her one of the top third sackers in Western Canada.

Little is known about Shearing, but reports from Vancouver where she played last season indicate that she is a fine addition to any senior ladies football squad.

Other risks finished as follows: A. D. Anderson, Higgins, S. E. Shaw, Edmonton; K. A. E. Goodwin, Royal; T. Cox, Garneau; R. Bennett, Garneau.

SPORTSMAN AT ALL TIMES Seven Goals in 7-0 Game Duggan's Unique Puck Feat

By STAN MOHRER Sports Editor

Ken Duggan, whose untimely death at the weekend cast a pall over the city's business and sporting circles, pulled a unique hockey feat here last night, while playing for Strathcona high school, along about 1980.

At James Smiley old South Side rink, long since demolished, "Sons whitewashed" Victoria 7-0. Ken Duggan, playing centre for the winners, counted all seven goals.

Just as Springfield, the Weirmouth south side boy went on to carry out a fine athletic career. Following the close of his high school days he enrolled at University of Alberta.

Duggan was a member of the 1924-25 Varsity team that also boasted such fine pucksters as D. McDonald, Bill Power, Sam Savage and "Spooky" Lepard.

This student organization went as far as the provincial senior final, before losing out.

No matter as a baseball and hockey star will be remembered not only because of his attainments on the diamond and rink, but as well for the fine sense of sportsmanship and camaraderie he brought to bear.

Rarely was he involved in an "incident—a rhabar, as it's known today, although he played the game right to the hilt at all times.

In those days his teammates called him "Red" because of his red hair. He was a member of the 1924-25 Varsity team that also boasted such fine pucksters as D. McDonald, Bill Power, Sam Savage and "Spooky" Lepard.

Neil Colville and Alex Shibicky Coached of N.Y. Rangers

NEW YORK, June 27—(CP)—Neil Colville, 35, an Edmonton boy who skated to stardom in the National Hockey league yesterday was appointed to succeed Lynn Patrick as coach of New York Rangers.

Colville, who in the past starred on both the Rangers' forward and defence lines, came back to New York from New Haven Conn., where he succeeded Patrick as coach of the American league Bantam in 1948.

Patrick surprised everyone in May by resigning from the Rangers, where he had led to the final of the Stanley Cup playoffs, to join his father, Lester, in operation of the Victoria Cougars, of the Pacific Coast league.

Yesterday's appointment was announced by John Reed Kibicki, president of the Madison Square Garden, which owns the Rangers.

"Neil was chosen over four other candidates, each of whom received serious consideration for the post," Kibicki said. "He's done an outstanding job for our organization as a player for many years and a coach for the last two years."

"He's familiar with the Ranger pattern and will make an excellent running mate for our manager, Frank Bouvier."

Colville will be the youngest coach in the NHL. As a player he built up a reputation as a canny play-maker with an aptitude for setting up scoring opportunities.

His shift from the forward to defence line was made when he found himself slowing up after his wartime absence from the league. Then, two years ago, Rangers lashed him as coach for the Rangers' first team.

Announcement of Colville's appointment as coach of Rangers came as no surprise hereabouts. It has been freely rumored, ever since Lynn Patrick's resignation, that the one-time EAC junior ace would take charge of the Men of Manhattan.

At his home here yesterday Colville admitted that the request for his services had been made some time ago. However, announcement was withheld at the request of Madison Square Garden officials.

The new Ranger coach expects to head east, possibly as far as Winnipeg to start in about three weeks time. Rangers have three youth schools in the works—two at Winnipeg, Guelph and Saranac Lake, N.Y.

Edmonton boys (Aug. 1, 1944), the record books say? Neil Colville will be before long in the line, preparatory to starting with Edmonton Athletic Club juniors. Memorial cup finalists in 1951.

He graduated to Brooklyn Crescents, thence to Philadelphia before topping up with Rangers to start the 1936-37 NHL season. In the following 16 seasons he won three seasons while in the Canadian armed services. Neil Colville established himself as a top-flight major league.

Along with brother Mac Colville, an EAC grad, and Alex Shibicky, presently an Edmonton veteran, he formed one of the top half dozen all-time NHL lines.

He was with Ottawa Commandos, Allan cup winners in 1943.

His first-round opponents played yesterday through the first round of men's singles in the all-England lawn tennis championships.

Although Sedgman, who is ranked No. 1 in the field, scored an unimpressive 6-4, 7-5, 6-4 victory over Howard Wall of Australia, he told reporters his worst hurt and he doesn't know how many more rounds he can stand it.

The best tennis of the day came yesterday after completing his third year at the University of Michigan. The former Canadian A.C. junior hockey and baseball player expects to graduate from the U.S. college with a dentistry degree in two years time.

Fleming performed with the U of M pucksters during the winter season, in addition to chasing pucks for Detroit Hetches in the International Amateur Hockey league.

Fleming, a pitcher, expects to play some tournament baseball in the next few weeks.

Favorites Advance In Wimbledon Play

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27—(AP)—The seeded players marched yesterday through the first round of men's singles in the all-England lawn tennis championships.

Their first-round opponents topped as if the committee which handed out the favored spots was pulling strings. Only the strained right wrist of Australian Frank Sedgman appears to have caused a break in his seeded ranks before the quarter-finals.

TED TAPPE SIGNED BY CINCINNATI REDS

Ted Tappe, elongated first-sacker who performed for Eals in the Big Four league last year, has signed a professional baseball agreement with Cincinnati Reds, it was learned yesterday.

It's believed he received in excess of $5,000 for signing with the National league organization.

Tappe's home is in Pullman, Washington, site of Washington State university. He was a standout member of the Washington State Cougars, finalists in last week's National Collegiate Athletic Association playoffs in Omaha, Nebraska. Cougars lost in the final to Texas.

Sports Editor

(Ed. note: This column was put together several days ago, before the announcement that Bob Lillis was heading for Cleveland Thursday as the tentative of Indian general manager Hank Greenberg.)

The Clients Write . . .

Lorraine Stuart, City: "May I ask where you got the idea for that 'Bob Lillis, greatest attraction' stuff?"

"Honestly, Mr. Mohr, be fair! I thought that sports writers were supposed to be unbiased. You seem to blow that idea apart, nearly every night, particularly tonight."

"Four years ago you put me out for the year—Les Edwards, the greatest attraction. Two years from now it will probably be someone else. Don't you get tired of using superlatives about Mr. Lillis? Who is paying your salary—Ducey or Lillis?"

"Must I remind you of mappy, many . . . ballplayers who have been as good, if not better, than dear Mr. Lillis? Such as Alex Kampouris, Art Flores, Ernie Marlow, Tony Chula, Walter Gully, Joe Banks, and last year—Les Edwards, Reg Clarkson, Barry Robertson."

"You'll probably continue to write nothing but glowing words about Robert Lillis. Smarten up, Mr. Mohr."

Comment: For gosh sakes, Lorraine Stuart, I get into enough jams without being blamed for something Ducey did. All those "dazzling" references to Bob Lillis were carried in an advertisement put out by the Edmonton general manager. I had NOTHING to do with them.

Neither, I might add, did young Lillis, who was none too happy about being so put on the spot.

As for my ever having written that Art Flores was a "greatest attraction" of any kind, that I have to see in print twice. As I remember Flores he was a pretty good shortstop, but never great.

In my book the late Pete McCready still rates as the greatest player ever at Renfrew for any length of time. I can't forget how he covered ground in the outfield, the way he had, his base-running feats, some of the whopping homers he belted over the old left field fence, down in the corner, too.

But don't get me wrong about Lillis. He's a pious and has a chance for a great future, particularly if he doesn't go on being the subject of ads that "deal in superlatives."

Pat Hardy, A faithful Renfrew fan: "Having just read today's sports page of your esteemed paper I have . . . several things to say."

"Where do you get off calling Lillis the 'greatest attraction in baseball Edmonton has ever known'. What has he ever done to deserve it—three home runs, a good arm, youth. Who cares?"

"Just last year Les Edwards was one of the best pitchers Edmonton has ever seen. Does Jerry Seaman ever get credit for being one of the best utility men?"

The answer is NO. (Ed. note: the answer is YES).

"Never before has one player been singled out for so much attention. Well he can have it and I hope his size 19 hat doesn't look too out of place besides the modest seven and three-quarters of Barry Robertson, Glen Gorbous, Johnny Chula, Art Flores, Wayne Adams, Alex Kampouris—ad infinitum."

"I've thought some of your sports write-ups were pretty lousy but this one deserves a letter of protest. Lillis may be good but he isn't the best I've seen."

Comment: See above. Also I suspect that Renfrew regulars Stuart and Hardy are staunch Dodger supporters. Also that the misses Stuart and Hardy are pretty close friends. If this isn't the old gang-up routine, I've never seen it.

J. O. Taylor, president Calgary Tennis Association: "A copy of your June 12th issue has come to hand. Prominently displayed in large headlines are the following words: 'Skillduggery Creeps In As Calgary Wins Dyde Cup.'"

"I wish to strongly protest the use of such a word as 'skillduggery' in this connection . . . While using one team to play the two men's doubles events is unusual, there is not the slightest intimation in the rules to the effect that such cannot be done."

Comment: Mr. Taylor missed one thing in that headline: the form "skillduggery" was used with the singular quotes to indicate that mostly we were ribbing the Calgarians.

Also he suggests that "using one team to play the two men's doubles events is unusual." I'll say it's "unusual," so much so that it never previously was tried in the more than 20-year history of the Dyde cup.

'Slo-Mo-Shun IV' Sets Speedboat Record

SEATTLE, June 27—(AP)—Stan Sayres whipped his 1,500-horsepower "Slo-Mo-Shun IV" over Lake Washington yesterday at a spectacular 160.325 miles an hour for a world speedboat record.

His rakish hydroplane whined twice over a measured mile course at a pace nearly 18 miles an hour faster than the British-held former record. The former mark of 141.75, set by Sir Malcolm Campbell's Bluebird II on Lake Coniston, England, has stood for 11 years.

Stymied last week by windy weather, Sayres, an automobile dealer, brought the Seattle-built racer out in the morning to take advantage of the prevailing calm.

The lake surface was rippled slightly, just enough to give Slo-Mo-Shun average was 160.325.

Mo-Shun proper "tooting." The speedster, nabbed on a fishing suggestion of Sayres' wife, left a high plume of spray but little wake as it skimmed the first mile in 2.58 seconds—163.785 miles an hour.

Refueling in just half the 15-minute time limit set by international speedboat rules, Sayres ran the mile course from the opposite direction in 22.86 seconds, or 156.862 miles an hour.

Kent Hitebeck, referee representing the American Power Boat association, announced the championship, announced the championship, announced the championship.

PATS, LEGION CLASH IN DFA PLAYOFF

Final match in the Dominion Football Association cup playdowns in the Edmonton area will be played at Clarke Stadium tomorrow night.

The up-and-coming Oliver St. Pats will battle defending-champion North Side Legion in the sudden-death final. Starting time is 7:30.

Winner of the game will advance into the provincial final against Calgary. First of the two-game provincial series will be played in Calgary on July 3, with the second slated for Edmonton a week later.

LARRY DOBY, GEORGE KELL IN TIGHT FIGHT

CHICAGO, June 27—(AP)—Larry Doby of Cleveland has moved into a tie with George Kell of Detroit Tigers for the American league batting leadership.

Average of games through Sunday show Kell and Doby both hitting .360. Walter (Dope) Evers of Detroit is third with .351 and Walt Dropo of the Boston Red Sox fourth with .347.

Others in the first 10 are: Irv Morehead of Washington Senators, .337; Art Ziffels, Boston, .327; Johnny Ligon, Detroit, .326; Johnny Pesky, Boston, .327; Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, .321; and Ted Williams, Boston, .320.

Blood Pressure Closely Related To Death Rate

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(AP)—A chart which shows how your blood pressure automatically classifies you into one of various large groups with different death rates was shown yesterday in the American Medical Association.

The chart was worked out by an insurance company.

It shows ranges of systolic and diastolic blood pressures. The systolic pressure is the result of the contraction of the heart muscle, which produces the pulse beat. The diastolic is the pressure in the arteries between heartbeats.

ONE AGE GROUP

For a young person a sample of normal pressure might be 120 systolic and 85 diastolic. This is called 120 over 85 or 120/85.

If you are a male between 30 and 39 years old, your systolic blood pressure should be between 118 and 137 and your diastolic below 80, you are in a group which dies at about the same rate as the general run of people.

If you are between 30 and 39 and have a reading of 140/90 or 150/90 or somewhere between you are among people who die twice as fast as the average.

If in this same age group and your pressure is 150/100, percent of your class will die three times as fast as the general run.

All figures apply to men only. The average blood pressures for women run slightly lower for corresponding death rates.

Five-Month Exports To U.S. Increase

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP)—Spurred by a record of $115,260,000 worth of shipments in May, Canada's exports to the United States climbed to $127,000,000 during the first five months this year, a rise of 36 per cent over the $93,000,000 a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Exports to Britain in May fell from $12,403,000 last year to $48,000,000, during the five-month total down to $133,561,000 from $274,887,000.

Suspect Held At Montreal

MONTREAL, June 27.—(CP)—Ex-convict Thomas Rosier, quoted by police as boasting he had eluded them for nearly a month, today was in jail here, held as a material witness in the killing of an RCMP constable in Montreal, May 23.

The 40-year-old Rosier arrived here Saturday from Regina under guard of three Montreal police officers. An inquest into the murder of RCMP constable Alexander Gorman, 36, will be held near the end of this week.

Rosier has not yet been charged. Gorman, unnamed guard at the Bank of Canada here, was shot down as he tried to capture a gunman leaving a downtown branch of the bank of Toronto. The bank manager was wounded in the leg and the killer suffered a leg or groin wound.

Eighteen days later—June 17—Rosier was picked up by a Montana sheriff near Whitford, south of the Saskatchewan border. He waived extradition and was transferred to Regina, where RCMP officers said he admitted orally to shooting Gorman.

Two Sentenced In Drug Case

VANCOUVER, June 27.—(CP)—Albert Demers, 48 and Albert Byrmer, 39, were each sentenced to two years in penitentiary on conviction yesterday of charges of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

A 15-year-old girl testified Friday that she had become addicted to heroin under coaching of the two men.

ALL POMP AND GLORY of old Spanish court, mingled with adventure on high seas is brought to screen in J. Arthur Rance production of Christopher Columbus which opens Saturday at Varsona theatre here. Starring Fredric March, film is studied with sterling cast of British actors and actresses in one of Rank's greatest productions.

'Christopher Columbus' Rates High As Drama

The courage, fortitude, achievements and get-backs of the great discoverer Christopher Columbus were put to celluloid to make the great, dramatic film showing at the Varsona Theatre on Saturday.

All the pomp and pageantry of the Spanish court has been brought to the screen to give a portrayal of one of the greatest historical dramas ever known.

Starring Fredric March, Christopher Columbus tells the adventurous story of a man's belief and the many obstacles he has to overcome to land his belief in others.

His trials as he sails towards the New World with a motley crew, his landing and successful return to Spain are among the highlights of this exciting movie.

Co-starring are Francis L. Sullivan, Linden Travers, Kathleen Ryan and Derek Bond with James Robertson Justice and Felix Aylmer.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—What's the difference between acting on the stage and acting in the movies? Give us? Then let's get some answers from Hollywood personalities who have done both. I took the AP Hollywood forum around to the film sets and inquired what is the harder or more satisfying medium. Here are the results:

General Called To Form Cabinet

TEHRAN, Iran, June 27.—(AP)—The government of Premier Ali Mansur resigned yesterday.

An official source said the shah has named Li-Cien. All Mansur, chief of the army general staff, to form a new cabinet.

Little Drops of Water

Thirty drops of water,
Thirty drops of rain,
Would surely make a purple
Going down the drain.

The foregoing product of a water-logged brain was inspired by the gallant though futile effort of an aerial rainmaker to end the Edmonton drought during the week-end.

The airman is reported to have needed a cloud with 25 pounds of dry ice and to have obtained only 32 drops of rain in return.

When Elegant Elsie read that story she exclaimed: "Well, why don't they use wet ice if they want it to rain?"

I'm going to pass an orchid to a certain northern Alberta farmer who was foreman of a jury in a criminal court trial here some months ago.

An 18-year-old lad was charged with a serious offense following a shooting. He was acquitted at his trial.

The jury foreman learned the youth could not return to his family so he gave him a job on his farm.

Now, I am informed, the youngster is working his head off to make good.

I sure like to write items like this.

Street Fixer Bland

The Bulletin's Eric Bland "fixed" a number of dangerous holes in the paving on 104 avenue near 123 street Saturday. Here's how:

Motorists were telephoning The Bulletin about the disgraceful condition of 104 avenue. Bland speeded to the scene with his trusty Speed Graphic around the noon hour Saturday.

I climbed down into the deepest hole and Bland snapped a picture.

Before nightfall the city had a crew filling in the holes. City crews don't usually work Saturday afternoons.

See the picture of me squinting in the biggest hole. It was taken at about 12:35 p.m. Saturday.

Seems to me that just about the worst news the Southern Koreans could get was that of all-out aid from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Things are dry all over. Some 300 members of Alcoholics Anonymous from all parts of Alberta staged a blowout on Saturday at Red Deer. Members from Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Wetaskiwin and Camrose held a picnic.

The boys ran out of drinks—soda pop and the like, of course.

The anonymous A.A. enthusiast who phoned in this item chuckled when he told about the bunch running out of drinks.

"That's the only way in which the picnic resembled the blowouts we had in the old days," he said.

A good goodnight to all and especially to rainmakers.

Court Orders

Divorce Decrees

Ten absolute divorce decrees were granted by Judge J. B. Courtney today. They were granted by Judge Courtney yesterday.

Divorced were Nell Eileen Pearson from Evelyn Torine, Joseph Laursen, Alie.

ent Regnier from Alberte Yvonne Evelyn Phillips from John Hutton, Anna from Fred Boudasne, Kathleen from Ernest Brabant, Donald David Bell from Joan Leonard.

Mr. Justice Courtney also granted a divorce to Theresa J. Olaf Dahl from Bjørn Ole Almar, Elsie Bonnevill from Jacqueline Marie Eleanor from Gordon Henry Walters.

Asked if he favored paying the chief and councillors for the meeting they attended, without hostility and in front of them, he said the equivalent of "no".

The Wabigoon Indians, about 250 in the band, by no means depend on their treaty money to live. They are quite well off. Cupid is the richest per capita band, this spring they got together for another pay-off.

At that time, they received $40 a head, at part interest on the band fund.

Oil rights. The fund which began when they were sold part of their rich land on the reservation, has recently been awarded by oil rights they own.

And the story goes that when the well kicked in and the oil people wanted authentic Indian costumes for pictures, not a feathered head dress would be found.

He told to send to a costume house in Edmonton, and rent them. The band has a plan for its oil. After a sort of means test, they provide them with a food ration. Implements are also provided by band funds.

There are 26 Indian farms on the reserve. They have medical and educational services too, and only a few new needs are not provided for.

But in spite of this opportunity which the average farmer would welcome, these Indians are content to live day to day.

Worldly wealth doesn't mean a thing to them.

ALONG MEMORY TRAILS

YOUNG AND OLD received treaty money at Wintterburn, Monday. Okla. here like Big Louie, 78, remember days before there was a treaty. He keeps three-year-old children Sharpshooter enthralled with tales of ways of life when all the prairie was his peoples to roam where they pleased.

Feathers, Beads Missing As Treaty Money Is Paid

By Marjorie Jones
Principal Editor

The king honored his great-grandmother's pact again on Monday.

Superintendent E. A. Robertson, department of Indian Affairs, handed out more than $100 in Wintterburn, Indians in treaty at $5 a head Monday morning, but not a feather was seen on the reservation.

Not a colored bead was in sight and hardly a wawawin could be found.

Nowadays receiving treaty is strictly a business transaction with a little pop-drinking and a baseball game thrown in because everybody is little. Only link with early tradition is the presence of RCMP.

By mid-morning the Indians began arriving. They climbed from their doggie bookshelves to sit in the shade trees by the old fashioned white house used as an office and headquarters for waiting dogs and nuns.

Hardly had superintendent Robertson's tent settled before they began to queue quietly in the clean smelling hallway.

Huge P.M. Callahan, carryall about 215 pounds, an irascible and farming instructor at the reserve, helped good natured Mr. Robertson.

All but the very oldest spoke English. Big Louie, 78, alone needed interpretation into Cree.

He didn't need anyone to tell him how to vote, though.

NEGATIVE VOTE Asked if he favored paying the chief and councillors for the meeting they attended, without hostility and in front of them, he said the equivalent of "no".

The Wabigoon Indians, about 250 in the band, by no means depend on their treaty money to live. They are quite well off. Cupid is the richest per capita band, this spring they got together for another pay-off.

At that time, they received $40 a head, at part interest on the band fund.

Oil rights. The fund which began when they were sold part of their rich land on the reservation, has recently been awarded by oil rights they own.

And the story goes that when the well kicked in and the oil people wanted authentic Indian costumes for pictures, not a feathered head dress would be found.

He told to send to a costume house in Edmonton, and rent them. The band has a plan for its oil. After a sort of means test, they provide them with a food ration. Implements are also provided by band funds.

Safety Patrol Dinner Tonight

More than 400 safe school patrol members from Edmonton and surrounding district will hold their annual banquet tonight at the Macdonald hotel.

From widely separated corners as Custer, Viking and Athabasca, they will converge on the city for the last time today, ask: "Do you think city council should approve the Detweiler 'Miracle Mile' plan?"

Final results will be announced in the Bulletin as soon as they are compiled.

Finances Improved For Transit System

$17,500,000 IN PERMITS

Edmonton's 1950 building permit total went over the $17,500,000 mark yesterday.

Western Prospects Ltd. took out a building permit for a $43,854 addition to its metal fabricating shop at 2000 115 avenue. Hale, Wyman and Hulse are architects and A. Johnson the contractor.

This brought the 1950 building permit total to $17,500,000, against a total of $14,787 in the first five months of 1949.

PATRONAGE The May passenger total climbed 847 over the same month of last year, boosting the total 1950 increase to 390,393.

Athabasca Man Guilty Of Charge

Frank Ladouceur, Athabasca, was found guilty of theft of $380, by Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald in Supreme court yesterday.

He was remanded to June 30 for sentence.

Ladouceur was alleged to have deposited large sums of $100 and $50 bills in a box at Edmonton bank shortly after sum of $3800 was taken from the bank.

The accused was a roomer in the building, he was found by Mr. and Mrs. Duplax.

Both Duplax and his wife testified the missing money consisted mainly of $100 bills to them by their son for a farm. Duplax said he had lost first $100 bill in a bedroom and later put it in a pocket of his Sunday clothes when he went to church.

MONEY MISSING Sunday night he hung the pants up in the bedroom, he said, and discovered the money had disappeared when he went Wednesday morning to get it meaning to deposit the sum in the bank.

The court was told a key to fit the Duplax's bedroom was found in Ladouceur's room.

Crown prosecutor W. J. Shortt, in examining, said "a man in financial difficulties on August 12, 1949, had been in Ladouceur's room."

"There has been no suggestion how he got the money," he added.

In finding Ladouceur guilty the judge said the crown's case was circumstantial.

"In stating the facts presented are not only consistent with you having committed the act," he told the accused "but are also consistent with any other rational solution."

'Brighter for British' Says Letter from Lois

By Bea Thrifty

Yesterday we were right smack-bang in the middle of a chatty letter from Lois Hill when we ran out of space. So as I promised here's the rest of the news 'n' views of Europe through the glazed eyes of the greenest of green young tourists.

As I said yesterday, Lois is running about the continent soaking up culture 'n' such with dauntless spirit. She's visited merry old England and oo-la-la France and now she's whizzing through the mighty mountains of Switzerland.

Some with me and we'll jog along in her letter . . .

I meant to tell you Bea, about the situation in England. I was pleased as Punch to find the people laughing and fun-loving.

We've heard so much about their hardships over the past decade it's hard to picture them as gay and seemingly light-hearted as they actually are. And you know this is contrary to all the "what-his" ideas we have of the English too.

Anyway, I started to tell you about food prices and rationing and point system . . . so I shall continue. There is no end of excitement over eggs! Eggs are no longer rationed . . . and are available in quantity. The point system has fallen by the boards and things are looking brighter for the Brits here most every day.

"er food is still inclined to run a bit to the starches. They're dearly love luxuries such as our cake mixes, tinned salmon 'n' such . . . but on the whole their life is much improved.

But it's the funny little women selling posies on the street corners who fascinate me.

Some of them are hagfish-looking enough to be in an Arthur Rank movie. I bought a daisy, purple nosegay of violets for 15c and was thrilled as a baby with a new toy. Carnations roses and countless tiny button-hole flowers sell at miserably-low prices.

But it gives you a nice warm-around-the-heart feeling to see everyone starting a fresh flower or two as they're on their way to work.

But back to France again!

From what we've seen, clothes are expensive. I particularly noticed nylon stockings which range in price from 900 to 1,200 francs . . . about three to four dollars. In spite of the prices, one sees many "chic" women in Paris . . . beautifully dressed and beautifully groomed. We have the impression, though, especially after riding the famed metro . . . or subway, that living costs are high for the natives as well as the tourist and it's most difficult to make ends meet.

Incidentally, the metro is one thing that isn't expensive. It's cheaper than riding the city buses and also the simplest way to get around Paris. But it's an experience . . . I thought Edmonton traffic was "dangerous living" but the life of a pedestrian here means absolutely nothing.

I'm writing this while travelling through Switzerland. Two middle aged Frenchmen are sharing our compartment, but due to the quality of our French and the fact they speak no English, conversation hasn't been up to much.

We've confirmed to attempts at sign language and occasional "tres jolies" as we point at the passing countryside.

I must pull up my dictionary and try to ask them when we arrive at the border.

Well . . . having a wonderful time . . . too bad you're not here old bean . . .

I'll write again, Lois.

Sounds like a barrel of fun doesn't it?

GOOD MUSIC may give you the exciting zest for life Josephine Lowman discusses today.

WHY GROW OLD

Everyday Life Can Hum With Enthusiasm, Love

By Josephine Lowman

I wish I could sing! I wish I could dance! I wish I could live with the same awareness and vibrancy and love of life which is evident in the performance of any great artist!

I have just been listening to a record by Edith Piaf.

IT'S A THRILL

One would have to be almost deaf not to get a lift when listening to her throaty notes, to the undertones of understanding, to the thrilling room when she sings about life.

We cannot all be great artists, nor can we all win acclaim on the concert stage or in public life, but we can all bring tenderness, excitement and understanding to everyday living. We can recognize its drama.

ENLARGE YOUR SPHERE

Surround yourself with happy emotional stimulation. Listen to music. Read great books. Stay aware of the persons about you. Think in terms which are larger than your own little personal sphere. Give yourself wholeheartedly to life, with understanding, sympathy, and love.

While you may not find yourself on a photograph record or on the concert stage while you enjoy life, you can be an artist in everyday living.

Time, when understood life best are most alive, no matter what happens to them, and every great artist must have this vital quality. Make your everyday life hum with enthusiasm, with usefulness, and with love.

BRIDGE

'Get There Fastest With The Mostest'

By Oswald Jacoby

A great American general once said that his object in a battle was to "get there fastest with the mostest." The same principle often applies in bridge, especially in the play of trump hands.

The object of the defenders in most trump hands is to establish a long suit and then run it. The object of the declarer may be to get there first with his own long suit. The battle is not always won by the longer suit. It may be won by the suit that gets there first.

In today's hand, South made use of a very fine play to delay the enemy. Since this type of play is often possible in a regular game, it is worth a second look from every bridge player.

West opened the eighth of spades, obviously his highest card in his partner's hand. South counted his tricks and realized that the South would not even have made his contract if he had played anything but the eighth of spades. For example, if dummy had played a low spade, South would have taken his king. West would have led his remaining spade. This would allow East to take the rest of the suit.

Curiously enough, South might have made his contract by allowing West's eighth of spades to hold the first trick. South would win the second spade and then knock out the ace of clubs. West would take his ace and lead his remaining spade. This would allow East to take the rest of the suit.

For this reason, declarer clearly played the queen of spades from the dummy at the first trick! East had to play his ace, since otherwise declarer would make two spade tricks. However, East led a low spade. South would play low and dummy's ten would win a trick. If East returned the jack of spades, South would win with the king, after which dummy's ten would be high.

The fact that East could not return a spade at the second trick gave declarer the time to make his contract. East actually led a club but no other return would have helped. West took his ace. West ultimately returned his remaining spade, but South was now able to drive out South's king.

Unfortunately for East, it was late in the hand when he was able to suit against suit, and he could take his clubs then and there. He was able to cash three clubs, four diamonds, one heart and one spade. As the play actually developed, South made an extra trick by catching East in an end-play.

Far from making an extra trick.

Spice for Summer—A Gay Color Velveteen Hat

With hats as they are today, you can wear as startling colors as you want. For instance, the new little velveteen berets and caps just have been brought out by the smart milliners come in a series of very gay bright colors—coral, sulphur yellow, orange, and violet—in mention only a few of the newest and brightest.

I like them enormously to wear with either black or stark white—for any kind of costume from a black chiffon gown to a white linen suit. These little soft velveteen hats are wonderful travel companions as you can pack them in almost no space at all.

Safety News

By CECIL "TIGER" GOLDSTICK six passengers in his boat were today we are going to stray a bit badly shaken up and bruised and from our ordinary theme, but it is the boat, damaged and several lives to do with safety.

Over the weekend we were spending a holiday at one of Alberta's beaches.

On the lake nearby there were many boats, of all sizes and shapes, with and without motors.

In the same water were hundreds of swimmers, mostly young boys and girls.

Now, the point of our argument is this:

Why isn't some precaution taken to insure the safety of these swimmers?

The boat operators roamed restlessly over the lake, weaving in and out of the swimmers' paths, and generally whirling it up with much abandon.

One particular incident brought home the need for a safety supervisor at our summer spots.

This incident concerned a motor launch which was being used to take tourists for tours around the lake, charging a fee for each passenger.

The operator of this launch, a young man, operated his boat with recklessness, and finally drove it nose-on into the pier after making a loop during a heat wave, too fast an approach to the pier. Those who were braver understood, and not cutting his motor soon nearly had to leave their coats on enough. The result was that the boat swirled.

Uncle Wiggly's Bedtime Story

Once Uncle Wiggly went to get up and see what made the sleep he slept hard. It wasn't easy.

"What noise?" asked the rabbit gentleman. "Do you mean Uncle Wiggly?"

"No! It's a different noise. Listen!"

Uncle Wiggly listened again. He held his eye lids open with his paws so he wouldn't go to sleep again.

"Did you hear a noise, Wiggly?"

"It's only the wind in the trees," he said. "Go to sleep, my dear. Go to sleep."

"Well, maybe it is the wind," said the rabbit lady. "Excuse me for waking you up, Wiggly." Then she and her husband went to sleep again. No one else on the boat had awakened. But in the morning, when the boat was under way, the rabbit gentleman, who had gone ashore before breakfast, came running back quickly.

"What's the matter, Bonnet?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Cap'n Wiggly's barked the old but gentler. 'Besides, I can see that you're all right. The jolly old fellow is up in the air like a balloon for the croquet match to catch.'

"I don't believe so, my dear. We are the only ones on this island. I hope, and everyone on the boat is a friend of mine."

"We don't know for sure, Wiggly. That are the only ones on this island. I hope, and everyone on the boat is a friend of mine."

"We don't know for sure, Wiggly. That are the only ones on this island. I hope, and everyone on the boat is a friend of mine."

Well At Woodbend Strikes Oil In D-3

By G. C. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

North Woodbend No. 1 has struck oil in the D-3 in the interval 5,270 to 5,300.

There was a spray of oil and a rise of 250 feet in ten minutes.

The bit had drilled through 140 feet of gas cap to what appeared to be the oil section.

This would give an oil column of 38 feet above the water line, the same as in other wells of gas cap drilling around the 3,000 feet mark.

All Hands Safe After Collision Of Two Ships

NEW YORK, June 27.—(UPI)—The American Export Lines' luxury liner Excelsior, outward bound on a 14-day Mediterranean cruise, collided with a freighter in the harbor today and began to sink, but all 113 passengers were removed safely.

Within minutes after the collision at 12:35 p.m. (EDT), dozens of Coast Guard vessels, tugs and other harbor craft converged on the scene, and the Excelsior liner began removing passengers.

By 1:30 p.m. the rescue operation had been completed.

The Coast Guard said no injuries had been reported among passengers or the crews of the two ships.

The Excelsior was bound for Genoa, Italy, and was carrying 113 passengers and a crew of 113.

Jobless Total Shows Drop During June

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP)—Canada's jobless dropped by 86,100 in the four weeks ended June 15, the labor department reported today, though the out-of-work list remained 266,500 and at June 15, 1945, it was about 146,000.

The number of job seekers registered at National Employment offices at June 15 was 225,400. At May 15, 1945, the corresponding figure was 266,500 and at June 15, 1944, it was about 146,000.

Breakdown of unemployment in major cities at June 15, with May 15 figures in brackets: Newfoundland—St. John's 14,020 (15,385); Maritimes—Charlottetown, 694 (1,094); Halifax, 4,603 (5,384); St. John's, 2,749 (4,005); Moncton, 2,500 (4,420); Saint John, 3,182 (3,771); Quebec—Quebec, 1,821 (1,581); Montreal, 26,139 (25,441); Quebec City, 6,310 (6,325); Shawinigan Falls, 1,242 (1,242); Sherbrooke, 2,065 (2,136); Three Rivers, 2,752 (2,374); Prairie—Fort William-Port Arthur, 2,400 (5,000); Winnipeg, 8,286 (10,334); Regina, 444 (1,217); Saskatoon, 1,288 (1,677); Calgary, 2,637 (2,194); Edmonton, 3,512 (4,424); Pacific—New Westminster, 2,450 (4,166); Vancouver, 13,919 (17,259); Victoria, 3,181 (2,470); Prince George, 383 (588).

Fraser River Flood Battle Decided Won

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 27.—(CP)—British Columbia's battle of the floods has been won, officials agreed today.

Rivers were receding rapidly all over the province but waters still remained above flood danger levels at Mission, Trail and other points.

Wary dike workers and flood controllers were confident the dikes would hold, unless a second crest appeared on the Fraser and Columbia rivers. But this, they said, was unlikely.

77-Year-Old Killed By Train

CALGARY, June 27.—(CP)—Seventy-seven-year-old George Spark, of Calgary, was instantly killed when struck by a C.P.R. engine at a downtown level crossing this afternoon.

According to witnesses, Spark walked past a lowered crossing gate into the path of the oncoming engine. An inquest has been ordered.

WATER IS ankle-deep in front of fire station in downtown Galveston, Tex., and deeper in some places after 12.45 inches of rain fell in less than nine hours. Air and surface transportation into the city was almost completely stalled by the storm.

Western Wheat Farmers May Get Compensation For Losses

OTTAWA, June 27.—(CP)—Trade Minister Howe said last night the government will give consideration to alleged losses suffered by western wheat producers through the five-year wheat pool when the pool is settled towards the end of this year.

He was replying in the Commons to renewed opposition charges that the wheat producers had lost $500,000 through the low prices at which their wheat was sold to Britain under the four-year Anglo-Canadian wheat contract.

Mr. Howe said the contract was a "protection" for the farmers, not a "sacrifice" as suggested by the opposition.

He showed slight signs of movement for the first time Sunday, but yesterday his condition was reported "unchanged".

Three Mink Farms Reported Robbed

CALGARY, June 27.—(CP)—Robbers totaling $200, have been posted by fur breeders for information relating to a recent wave of mink thefts in the Calgary district.

During the past week three separate farms were raided and 276 baby mink, valued at $11,000 were taken.

Plant Blows Up

RUBEN, Wales, June 27.—(AP)—An explosion in the research department of the Monsanto Chemical Plant here yesterday killed one worker and injured seven. Pieces of the roof fell a mile away.

Final Respects To Late Official Paid By 1,200

LITTLE BRITAIN, Man., June 27.—(CP)—Approximately 1,200 persons yesterday paid final respects to Hon. James O. McLennan, life attorney-general of Manitoba who died Friday at his home here, about 25 miles north of Winnipeg.

Rev. Gordon Maclean of the First Presbyterian Church, Winnipeg, conducted the graveside service at the family plot in the Little Britain cemetery.

Rev. Gardner Dickey of Knox Presbyterian Church, Selkirk, Man., and Rev. R. S. Montgomery, Anglican church minister at Selkirk, also took part in the open-air funeral service on the grounds of Mr. McLennan's home.

Nationalists Claim 300 Reds Killed

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 27.—(AP)—The Chinese Nationalist navy announced last night that its warships killed with shelling 300 Communists in a building defense work on the Chekiang coast.

It said 10 Communist junkies in the vicinity were sunk.

Publishers Robbed

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—Three handily held up a book-publishing company in downtown Manhattan yesterday, and escaped with a $16,000 payroll.

Labor Stands Pat Against Pool Plan

Tories, Liberals Join Forces In Support Of French Scheme

LONDON, June 27.—(CP)—The British government today stood pat on its attitude toward the Schuman Plan.

Against the combined forces of Conservatives and Liberals, who labeled a joint motion in the Commons yesterday criticizing the French proposal to pool Europe's coal and steel industries, were handled, Sir Stafford Cripps led the counter-attack.

The chancellor of the exchequer told Anthony Eden, deputy Conservative leader, that the Labour government will remain outside talks on the French plan.

But any action reached by the six-member Paris conference, now in recess, would receive the co-operative help of the British government.

Far-reaching effect of the Paris discussions would have far-reaching effects on West Europe's defense against Communism and on its economic security.

His motion urged the government to go to Paris, as did The Netherlands, with the reservation that it would withdraw if it found the plan unacceptable or impracticable.

But Cripps said Britain must await the results of the talks before taking any initiative.

Eden said that "in all its dreams of wedge-driving, Russia could hope for nothing better than the reduction of Britain to the status of observer in Franco-German relations."

NEED IS SEEN The outbreak of fighting in Korea emboldened the urgent need for teamwork in the anti-Communist world.

Cripps replied that the government is just exercising proper caution toward the plan.

"We could not enter light-heartedly upon any scheme or plan which might affect profoundly our coal and steel industries," the chancellor declared.

Exercises In Hungary

VIENNA, June 27.—(AP)—Believable western diplomatic sources here said yesterday that Russia is planning large-scale maneuvers next month in which Soviet troops will beat off an imaginary attack on Southern Hungary.

Document Thief Denied New Trial

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—Judith Coplin yesterday was refused a new trial on charges that she removed United States government documents from the justice department, where she used to work.

The 29-year-old girl argued unsuccessfully that "newly-discovered evidence" indicated the government had concealed wire-tapping activity at the trial. She is under a sentence of 60 months to 10 years.
